

Alpha Beat

Alpha Beat

A winning blend of Dance, Comedy and Gymnastics!

A is for Absolutely Anything you can imagine, can be interpreted in Dance. B is for Ballet, C is Choreography and D is for Drama as Robin dances through to X, Y and Z.

The alphabet is cleverly used as a story line and each letter acts as a springboard to explore another avenue of dance. With plenty of letters to get through in fifty minutes the show certainly zips along.

Alpha Beat is a dance journey with humour and edge, that incorporates a good dollop of gymnastics, giving the show those extra visual and wow factors. It's designed to enable older and younger students alike to engage and relate.

While the show looks at many performance dance styles it also focuses on the important role dance plays in celebrating and socializing. The show certainly encourages dancing for enjoyment. Secondary to the exploration of dance in its many facets is the story of a child who wanted to dance and the adult she grew into.

Robin Godfrey has a BSc in Nutrition and Exercise Science from Wollongong Uni and studied Sports Science and Dance in North Carolina USA. Since then she has worked as an Exercise Physiologist, Fitness Instructor and of course as a dancer, dance teacher and choreographer.

What schools have said: The performance was educational, entertaining and humorous, with a good smattering of wow moments. All levels from prep to grade six were entertained and engaged.
